To whom it may concern

Reference: Edusport Academy

Edusport Academy pride themselves in delivering a curriculum that develops both the player and the person.

While their main focal point is developing the requirements for their players to improve on the field of play, they seem to be very conscious of their commitment to ensuring that all our players are well rounded and prepared for the world inside and out of football.

They ensure that the environment is right and have coaches who are qualified with facilities that are suitable for the football development of their players.

In my opinion, Edusport is a very professional academy in how they look to develop their players with a strong culture underpinned by their values and an excellent football philosophy.

Yours sincerely
